

Church Intercessions – 3rd Sunday after Pentecost 21-06-2020

Genesis 21:8-21; Psalm 86.1-10, 16-17; Romans 6.1-11; Matthew 10.24-39.

Loving and merciful God, you care for your people, and all your children are precious in your sight: .we pray for all the family of nations.

We pray for all whose lives have been impacted by the Coronavirus Pandemic.

We pray for all effected by natural disasters, war and famine.

Help us to live in harmony as sisters and brothers in your creation.

Loving God, help us daily to grow into your likeness, and, in your mercy,
hear our prayer.

Loving and merciful God, you you offer your people redemption and fullness of life:
we pray for your church, for all baptised into Christ.

We pray for the many Christian churches in Australia.

We pray for leaders, teachers and theologians.

We pray for the clergy and people of our own parish of St Cuthbert's.

We pray for charity and unity among all Christians, that together we may proclaim your gospel of love.

Loving God, help us daily to grow into your likeness, and, in your mercy,
hear our prayer.

Loving and merciful God, you are good and forgiving, and you abound in steadfast love for your people: we pray for our community.

We pray for our families, our neighbours and our friends, for all whom we meet in our daily lives.

We pray for the hungry and the homeless and all without work.

We pray for a community that values and cares for its members' that all may live in dignity and hope.

Loving God, help us daily to grow into your likeness, and, in your mercy,
hear our prayer.

Loving and merciful God, you are filled with compassion for your people, and in our troubles you hear our cries: we pray for all in need.

We pray for all who are lonely or sad, for those in grief or despair, for the sick and the dying, and all who care for them.

We pray especially for those on our parish list and those we know who are unwell. We pray for courage in our own troubles and for compassion and generosity that we may respond to the needs of others.

Loving God, help us daily to grow into your likeness, and, in your mercy,
hear our prayer.

Loving and merciful God, you deliver your people from death and promise us the joys of everlasting life: we give you thanks for all who have died in your love.

Help us to love you above all else, that, united with all your saints, we may be raised to a joyful resurrection and live with you forever.

Loving God, in your mercy,
hear our prayer.
